Khot-la-cha Art Gallery & Gift Shop features authentic northwest artwork created by BC's finest native artists. We offer hand-carved cedar totem poles and plaques, unique feasting bowls, rattles and hand-tanned moccasins, along with exquisite hand-carved sterling silver and 14K gold jewelry. The Gallery is named after Chief Simon Baker's traditional Squamish name "Khot-la-cha", which means "kind heart" in the Squamish language. The Gallery is now second generation owned and operated by Nancy "Kitaliya" Nightingale, the Baker's daughter. We welcome you to visit our new two story cedar "Long House" Art Gallery & Gift Shop located on the reserve, minutes away from the Lions Gate Bridge.
