Nk'Mip Cellars is North America's first Aboriginal owned and operated winery. Situated on a bench overlooking the sparkling waters of Osoyoos Lake, the winery is one of the most attractive in the South Okanagan. The site is also adjacent to a tract of natural desert land which provides a stunning contrast to the newly planted vineyards and orchards. The Osoyoos Indian Band shares its history and traditions with those who visit the winery. Tour experiences at the winery are enhanced through the architecture, designed and constructed to display native art and artifacts, and enhance the beauty and unique nature of the wild sage desert surroundings. Nk'Mip Cellars has been receiving numerous awards over the years for its premium quality VQA wines. The varietals Nk'Mip currently produces include Pinot Blanc, Riesling, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Merlot, Meritage and Icewine. This year, the winery will release its first Syrah.
